

Post-truth Migration Policy Making in the US

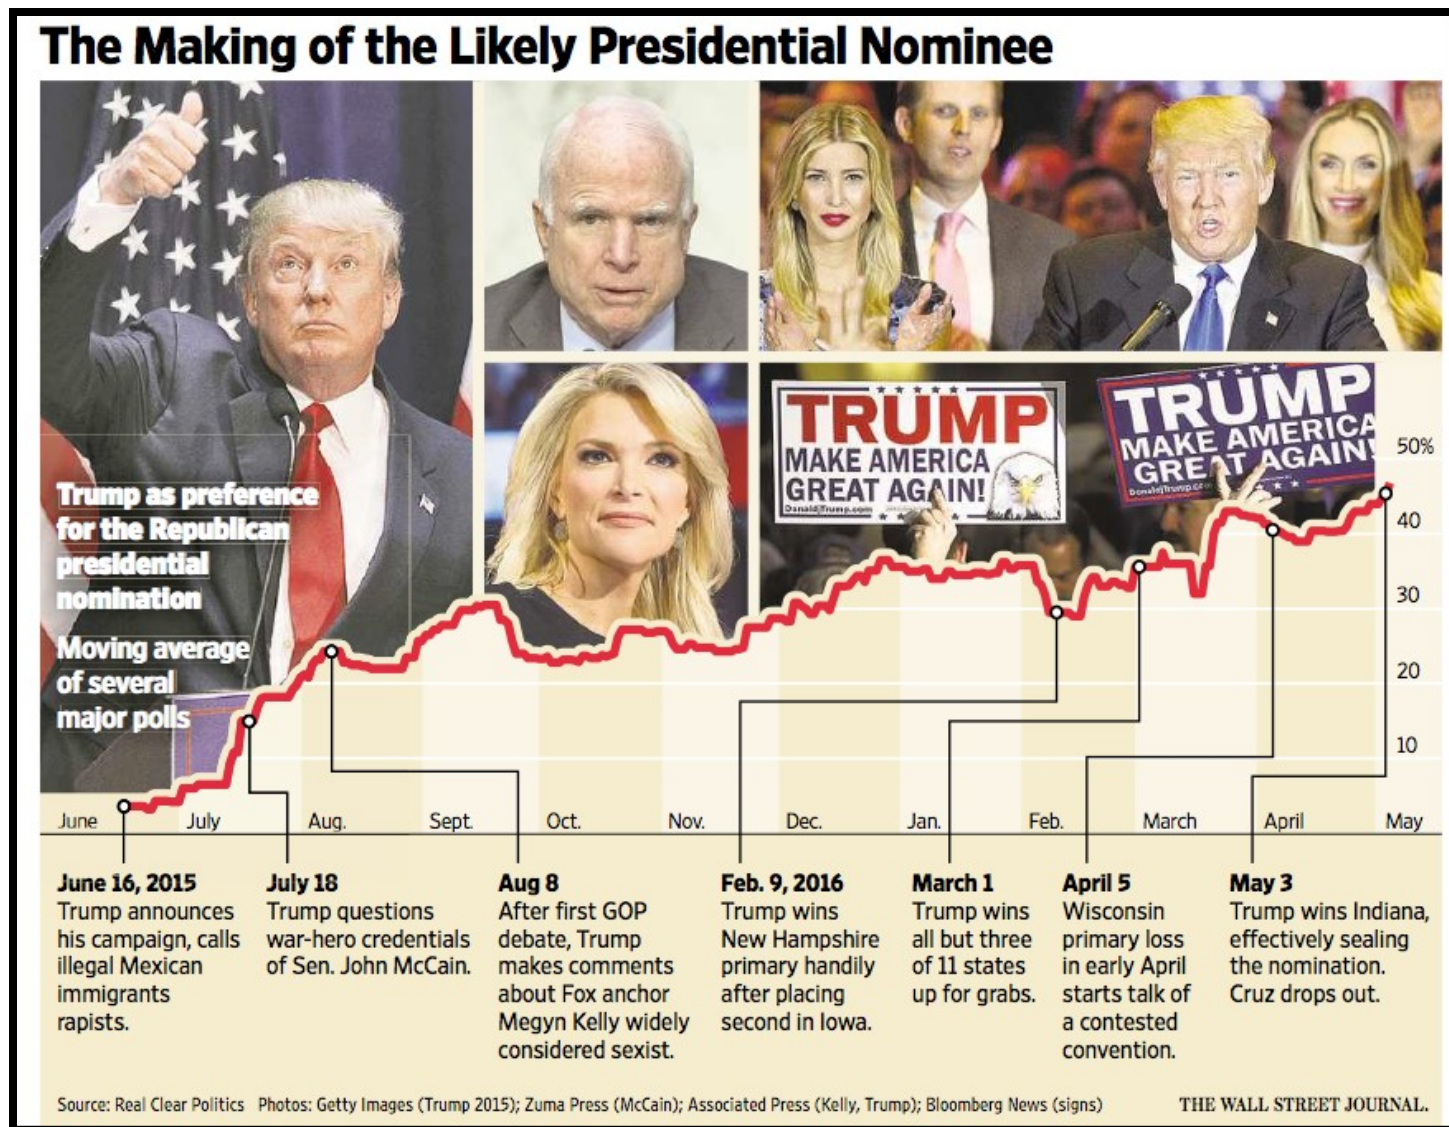

Philip Martin
plmartin@ucdavis.edu

Highlights

- Trump: Make America Great Again with border wall & removing unauthorized
- 11 million unauthorized; 8 million or 5% of US workers: 1.5 million each in hospitality & bus services, 1 million each construction & ag
- Research studies
  - Agreement on # unauthorized & characteristics, not socio-economic impacts
  - Advocates publicize research they support; See author name, know conclusions
  - Research: Trump changes are not necessary

Post-truth: call Mexicans rapists, sexist comments, support up
Is support for Trump because of or despite what he says?
Employers: support Trump for anti-reg, not anti-migrant

Trump: won 6 states that voted for Obama in 2012 (dark red)

Red USA: each House member represents 735,000 people

Blue cities, red suburbs & rural areas (2/3 of cities = Dems)

35% of US residents in 20 largest metros; 65% of unauthorized

20 metropolitan areas with the largest number of unauthorized immigrants

2014 estimates

Immigrants in US = Work

- 26 million immigrant (FB) workers, 17% of US labor force of 156 million in 2015; 50% = Hispanic; 25% = Asian
- 65% of FB in labor force, 62% of US-born; FB men LFPR higher than US
- FB unemployment rate LOWER than US born: 4.9% in 2015 vs 5.3% for US-born
- FB earn 80% as much as US-born—average $680 a week in 2015 vs $835 for US-born
- FB with college degrees earn = or more than US-born with college

Research & Policy

- Research: to inform policy makers or legitimize policy positions they already have?
  - Role of research: technical (drugs, science) versus democratic (people decide: guns, abortion, migration)
  - Policy makers: symbolic versus real outcomes
- Contrast migration and climate change: what will happen in the future?
  - Research: no data from the future: make assumptions, build models based on past data, project future impacts
  - Researchers get tagged; advocates publicize conclusions of researchers whose results support their positions
  - Peer review on grants and articles can break down: “everyone knows” whose project or paper
  - Policy makers pick & choose research results

Nation of Immigrants: e pluribus unum, from many, one

4 Waves of Immigrants to the US 1

- 1st wave: pre-1820, when ship captains began to report # immigrants. Pre-1820: 60% British, thus English and British common law
- 2nd wave 1820-60: Irish and German Catholics, Protestant Know-Nothing anti-Catholic reaction; 1861-65 Civil War stopped immigration
- 3rd wave: 1880-1914; southern and eastern Europe to Ellis Island; 1m/year when US had 75m residents; anti-immigrant backlash & national origins quotas of 1921 & 24 (quota = % in US in 1890)
- Immigration pause: 1921-1965—more emigration than immigration in the 1930s

4 Waves of Immigrants to the US 2

- 4th wave: 1965-present:
  - selection changed from national origins (W Europe) to family unification
  - origins shifted from W Europe to Latin America (55%) and Asia (25%)
- 1980-2010: Mexico-US migration hump
  - 1970: 50 million people born in Mexico, and 750,000 or 1.5% were in US
  - 2010: 120 million people born in Mexico, and 12 million or 10% were in US
  - Most Mexicans in the US (1) arrived after 1990 & (2) are unauthorized

Policy: Facilitate, Qualitative, Quantitative Caps

- Until 1880s: Laissez-faire or encourage immigration by giving land to those who built infrastructure. Canal and railroad builders recruited immigrant workers
- Since 1880s: qualitative restrictions, no numerical limits, but no prostitutes, no Chinese: 30 categories
- Since 1920s: quantitative restrictions, annual limits
- Today:
  - 70% of 1.1 million immigrants each year arrive because US relatives sponsor their admission
  - 70% of immigrants are already in the US when

What assumptions to estimate long-run migrant impacts?

Net Present Value of Typical Immigrant: +$80,000

- Upon entry, immigrants get more benefits than they pay in taxes. Why? Younger & more children
- What is the NPV of a newcomer in 1996? Project his/her taxes paid and tax-supported benefits received for 300 years
- Assumptions: immigrant earnings catch up to similar US-born in 20 years; US-born children of immigrants same as children of natives; govt raises taxes and reduces benefits for all in 2016
- Results: after 25 years, NPV = -$18,000. But ever-longer time horizon means higher NPV
  - If govt does not raise taxes & lower benefits, NPV of a typical immigrant = -$15,000 even after 300 years

Admissionists vs Restrictionists

- Admissionists: accept more immigrants and refugees, legalize unauthorized in the US
- Restrictionists: reduce legal immigration and deport unauthorized foreigners
- Politics: Hispanics & Asians are over 80% of migrants; they vote 2-1 for Democrats. Republicans reluctant to endorse path to US citizenship for unauthorized
- No significant negative effects of migrants on US workers. Does this mean no impacts or hard to measure impacts? Does absence of evidence mean evidence of absence, that is, no negative effects?
- US-born more likely to commit crimes than similar FB. How to evaluate crime by unauthorized?

Fears: immigration & inequality. Middle class = those with incomes that are 67-200% of median: US$53,000, Ger $41,000

What it takes to be middle income varies by country

Middle-income range in 2010 for a three-person household in 2011 prices and purchasing power parity dollars

Note: Middle-income households have disposable incomes that are two-thirds to double the national median disposable income, after incomes have been adjusted for household size.
Source: Pew Research Center analysis of data from the Cross-National Data Center in Luxembourg (US).

The middle class in the U.S. is smaller than in Western Europe

% of adult population in lower-, middle- and upper-income households, 2010

Note: Middle-income households have disposable incomes that are two-thirds to double the national median disposable income, after incomes have been adjusted for household size. Lower-income households have incomes less than two-thirds of the median and upper-income households have incomes that are more than double the median. The income boundaries are based on each country's own median disposable household income.
